Lumberton Correctional Institution has new superintendent

RALEIGH — Brad Perritt is the new superintendent at the Department of Public Safety's Lumberton Correctional Institution in Lumberton.

The Adult Correction Division facility has 268 officers and other staff members, and houses 788 medium custody adult male inmates.

Perritt began his career at the Lumberton prison in 1995, and had been assistant superintendent of custody and operations at Tabor Correctional Institution since 2011. He has also worked at Scotland Correctional Institution.

Perritt succeeds the retired Sandra Thomas.
