

.0301 GENERAL

Employees of the North Carolina Division of Prisons are public servants with protective responsibilities. A high standard of professionalism shall be maintained consistent with safety and security standards and the correctional environment in which employees work. While on duty, employees, to include contractual employees with the exception of independent contractors, shall adhere to the acceptable standards of dress and grooming as set forth within this policy.

Appearance and grooming standards are based on several elements including safety and security, neatness, cleanliness, safety, professional correctional image, and uniformity in appearance and standards. The standards established here are not intended to be overly restrictive nor are they designed to isolate Division of Prisons' personnel from society. The limits set forth are reasonable, enforceable, and insure that personal appearance contributes to a favorable correctional image. The difference between men's and women's appearance policies recognizes the difference between the sexes; IE. side burns for men, different hairstyles and cosmetics for women. Establishing identical grooming and personal appearance standards for men and women would not be in the Division of Prisons' best interest and is not a factor in the assurance of equal opportunity. In an effort to recognize the diversified roles for employees of the Division of Prisons, appearance and grooming standards are arranged in three categories listed below:

- (a) Category I - Uniformed Custody and Food Service Personnel
Uniformed correctional officer, lead correctional officer, sergeant, lieutenant, captain, and assistant superintendent at field units (optional), should follow the appearance and grooming standards listed for Category I employees.
- (b) Category II - Other Personnel With Direct / Frequent Inmate Contact
Non uniformed custody employees including superintendents, assistant superintendents, unit managers, assistant unit managers, food service managers III/IV and non-custody employees including program staff, health care providers, mental health providers, maintenance personnel and other job classes with duties involving direct and frequent contact with inmates should follow the appearance and grooming standards listed for Category II employees.
- (c) Category III - Non-Uniformed Personnel With Minimal Inmate Contact
Non-uniformed employees with minimal inmate contact may include but are not limited to facility clerical, fiscal, administrative, and personnel staff, and region/central office staff. Each facility or section head will be responsible for making final determination regarding employees classified in this category that should follow the appearance and grooming standards for Category III employees. Whenever the nature of their duties requires Category III employees to work within the confines of a facility or in direct contact with inmates, Category III employees are expected to adhere to the same standards on jewelry, clothing, and makeup consistent with Category II employees. Category III employee should not be required to modify differences between Category II and Category III employees such as hair length or fingernail length that would require a permanent modification.

Superintendents, administrators, wardens and other Division of Prisons managers who provide management oversight of uniformed and non-uniformed personnel will have vested discretion in matters of grooming and personal appearance regarding the interpretation and application of these established guidelines. As designated by the Director or Prisons, the Executive Officer to the Director will serve as the contact person that superintendents, administrators, wardens and other Division of Prisons managers may contact to help them with the interpretation and application of this policy.

.0302 APPEARANCE STANDARDS

(a) Category I: Uniformed Custody and Food Service Personnel

- (1) Correctional line-staff positions at the rank of Captain and below, except where specifically approved by the Director of the Division of Prisons, are required to wear the standard uniform of the Division of Prisons. Chevrons for the Sergeant and Lead Correctional Officers should be placed on the sleeve of the uniform shirt, 1/2 inch below the shoulder patch. A brass insignia may be worn on the collar of the cruiser coat.
- (5) Uniforms should be clean, pressed and serviceable. The uniform should be worn in its entirety in the performance of duties, and should not be worn for non-duty activities. Examples of non-duty activities include but are not limited to - purchasing or consuming alcoholic beverages while in uniform, attending social functions, movies or sporting events, or wearing during secondary employment.

- (6) Female officers may wear the authorized uniform skirt as authorized by the facility/section manager.
 - (7) Pregnant officers may wear the standard DOP maternity jumper or a maternity pant and maternity shirt provided through the Central Supply. Maternity uniform shirts may be worn outside the uniform pants as designed. Shirts and pants may be exchanged for larger sizes as needed during pregnancy.
 - (8) Uniform staff have the option to wear long or short sleeve shirts, with or without a tie. Exceptions will be for staff taking inmates to and from court or performing other job duties as required by supervisors that necessitate wearing a tie. Contact with the general public in and of itself may not be sufficient grounds for requiring a tie, but the nature of such public contact may necessitate wearing a tie. Uniform sleeves should be worn as manufactured and may not be rolled up or altered in length. A single, gold/brass colored, star shaped, collar stay/pin may be worn on the tips of the shirt collar. The collar stay/pin will not be furnished by the department but may be purchased at the employee's expense.

The standard uniform headgear upon request by the employee will be the baseball style cap issued through Central Supply with either mesh or closed top, depending on the season of the year. The Pershing style cap will no longer be authorized for purchase, but may continue to be worn by those currently wearing it.
 - (11) The whistle and chain should be affixed to the uniform shirt on the right side with the whistle worn inside the shirt pocket. All uniformed custody and food service staff will be required to carry a whistle while on duty.
 - (12) A plain gold/brass colored nameplate will be supplied by the facility/section and worn on the right side of the uniform, immediately above the pocket. The nameplate should be limited to the employee's initials and last name, a "serving since" attachment, and any credentials required. The only other authorized pins or symbols will be the C.O. Mentor pin, C.S.T.P pin, North Carolina Criminal Justice Certification pin, and firearms qualification pin.
 - (13) All belts should be 1 3/4 inches wide, black in color with a plain brass color buckle with no ornaments or logos allowed. Sam Brown duty belts are authorized to be worn by uniformed custody staff. Sam Brown duty belts must be black nylon or leather. Duty belts will not be furnished by the department but may be purchased at the employee's expense.

(b) Category II: Other Personnel With Direct / Frequent Inmate Contact; and

(1) Category II, Category III - Employees should dress in a manner that will ensure their personal safety and project a professional, modest, conservative image. While on duty, employees may wear either business casual or professional attire; however, the attire must be appropriate, neat, compatible with the correctional environment and should not detract from the overall mission of the Agency. Any attire that is of extreme design, revealing in nature, or that conveys messages of a derogatory or offensive nature through language, logos, or symbols is prohibited. This includes signs or symbols of apparent membership in a Security Threat Group as evidenced by tattoos or other signs or symbols of membership in such groups.

(A) Business casual is generally defined as attire that is less formal in nature than professional attire but that remains appropriate for a conservative office environment.

(2) When an employee is on duty and the employee's job requires appearance in a court of law, representing the Agency in an official capacity, or attending official functions, the employee is expected to wear appropriate professional attire unless an exception is granted by the employee's supervisor. A factor in determining the requirement for business casual attire in lieu of professional attire may be based on the normal attire of the customer, business, or agency involved in the meeting.

(3) Examples of acceptable apparel for employees to wear at work include dress slacks/skirts to include khaki style slacks/skirts, a dress shirt/blouse, polo style shirts, turtlenecks, suits, (types include pant, skirt and dress) dresses, etc. Skirts/dresses may be no shorter than the top of the kneecap and slacks should be calf length. Shirrtails shall normally be tucked in unless designed to be worn otherwise. Ties are optional and the shirt collar may be worn opened. Only the top button may be unbuttoned.

(4) Examples of unacceptable apparel for employees to wear at work are any style/color of jeans, overalls, shorts, muscle shirts, t-shirts, sweat/wind suits, military type clothing (except as authorized in section .0303), skirts/dresses shorter than the top of the kneecap or slacks that are not at least calf length. Slacks, dresses, sweaters, and blouses should not be form-fitting or revealing. Uniforms for building construction superintendents may be optional as determined by the regional maintenance manager.

- (C) While maintenance personnel are involved with work on a routine basis that is likely to soil the uniform, it is expected that the maintenance uniform will be neat and clean at the start of each work day. The uniform should be worn in its entirety in the performance of duties, and should not be worn for non-duty activities. Examples of non-duty activities include but are not limited to purchasing or consuming alcoholic beverages while in uniform, attending social functions, movies or sporting events, etc.
- (D) Wearing a cap is an employee option and caps will not be issued to an employee unless specifically requested by the employee. The standard uniform headgear upon request by the employee will be the baseball style cap issued through Central Supply with either mesh or closed top,
